IDFA 2020 | UPCOMING CATALAN DOCS

I am

Inspired by the idea that love educates and that conversation in the classroom is a key piece for the development of good learning, the documentary I am is a journey around being, growing and learning from the same class in a primary school in Barcelona. During 8 years, from 4 years old to 12, we observed the living portrait and the continuity of a group of children. Their relationships, their frustrations, their yearnings, and joys that year after year are changing or perpetuating in their personalities.

Patricia M. Félix

Patricia developed her career as a director at the International School of Cinema of Cuba and at The New York Film Academy. She has worked on artistic projects covering a wide range of works from artistic visuals, social documentaries, music video-clips and commercials. Her greatest talent is the vision, care, creative and artistic touch, she entrusts in each and every project she is tasked with.

Muyeres

In the Asturian mountains of Cangas de Narcea live the last guardians of a centuries-old tradition, the oral transmission of songs, romances and legends. These women were taught by their ancestors, but now no one continues their legacy and their voices are muted. A visitor comes to the valley with an old recording device that guards the voices of these women recorded years ago. Obsessed with these deep songs, he decides to start his search in order to find them.

Marta Lallana

Marta writes, produces and directs her first film Ojos Negros in 2019, winner of the Biznaga de Plata for Best Spanish Film at the Málaga Festival. In 2017, she works as co-writer and assistant director of the short Restos de cosas, produced by Nanouk Films. She was runner-up for the EuropeanTV contest Master of Photography (2016), supervised by photographers like Alex Webb or Bruce Gilden.

Corte y Confección de Películas

Production company specialized in genre and art-house films, producing films, series and documentaries. Used to work in co-production, our goal is to produce quality genre and auteur movies with worldwide relevance. We work in tight collaboration with writers and directors, establishing long-lasting relationships and develop ambitious and international projects.

Ole mi coño, The Ransomware Case

Ole mi coño is a cinematic riposte to the stalker who stole my laptop and revealed my intimate photos. A documentary thriller on how I embark into a terrible blackmail situation. Shame, anger, and distress caused by months of brutal extortion transform into the need of sharing my experience. Realizing the inefficiencies of the legal/police process, I start my own investigation on the dangers and challenges of private data in our modern society.

Patricia Franquesa

Patricia has been part of the creative team of the Heymann Brothers Films and Medalia Productions in Israel. In 2019 produces with Laura Imperiale the feature doc La Mami (IDFA, SXSW, MoMA DocFortnight). Currently, she's editing her first feature doc as a director Oh Dear Sara (ICEC, Film Center Serbia) co-produced with Serbia, and developing her new documentary project Ole mi coño.

Gadea Films

A creative platform aiming to enrich and produce innovative storytelling while exploring meaning and direction to our time. We have produced the doc feature La Mami (IDFA, SXSW, MoMADocFortnight).

Ringo Media

A production company based in Barcelona created by Mireia Graell (Goya Nominated 2018), which has produced Matria (Sundance Grand Jury Prize Short Film 2018) and is developing features and shorts.

Pepi Fandango

Pepi embarks on a journey from his home in Vienna (Austria) to the village of Paterna de Rivera in Andalusia (Spain) to face authentic flamenco song: music that causes him pain, awakening his childhood memories as a Holocaust survivor, and at the same time, relieves his internal suffering. Pepi Fandango is an intimate documentary, spanning seven decades and three European countries. Carrying the burden of childhood trauma, a man confronts his lifelong scars supported only by the power of music, humor and the transformative power of friendship.

Lucija Stojevic

Lucija's documentary feature La Chana (2016) won 17 awards, including the IDFA Audience Award 2016. It showed at over 150 festivals worldwide, was distributed theatrically in eight countries and broadcast internationally. She has also directed over 30 short documentaries for global media, such as The Guardian and The New York Times. She is currently directing and producing multiple projects.

Tolyatti Adrift

The old Russian city Tolyatti which once was a symbol of progress and socialist pride is nowadays the poorest in Russia. It was known for its car industry, mainly for the legendary car called LADA. Currently it's a deteriorated place, stuck in the moment and with the highest youth unemployment rates in the country. In this desolated context arises 'Boyevaya Klassika', a teenagers' movement based on the idea of rescuing the old cars from the local factory. They aren't only able to give these icons, a second chance but they also turn them into a distraction, rebelliousness and expression towards hope.

Laura Sisteró

In 2012 she graduated from ESCAC. She combines her work as an advertising director with more personal film projects. In 2014 she won a MEDIA scholarship with which she is developing her first feature film Jeena, currently in production. In 2016 she wrote and directed along with Alejo Levis the short film Waste. Tolyatti Adrift is her first feature-length documentary.

Boogaloo Films

Creative group from Barcelona that works with new forms of production and storytelling. Their commitment goes through the reflection of current issues, with a vocation for internationalization of young talent, without forgetting risk and creative and artistic points of view. Their professional work has earned them more than 50 awards at national and international festivals.
